

Thank You Card

Have everyone choose a fellow co-worker (who isn't on the call) that they want to give thanks for. After everyone knows who they are giving thanks to, have them use pencil and paper or their computer to spend the next 3-5 minutes with the following steps:

- Have everyone write words of encouragement for the person they've chosen.
- Make sure to connect to something that person has done recently

When everyone is finished, share key themes and words that stand out for everyone.

Are there any similar words or themes that stand out?

At the end of the call, have everyone commit to writing their message on a hand-written note and giving it to the person they intended it for.
